Summary

College of Computer and Information Sciences students spend more time in studying to accomplish course's projects, and in return do not find enough time for studying the course's subjects leading to accumulating the non-understanding of the previous lectures.

MCQ 4U is an educational application, which helps students to understand lectures and memorize it before next lecture, and Improves thinking and writing skills for students when they are generating MCQ, enhance students' self-learning skills .

In addition, it helps faculty members to view student's understanding level using statistics forms in a dynamic way.

The application process is summarized in faculty member selects a group contains five students, four students are responsible to write MCQs, and one student coordinates the group work, collect their MCQs and submits the MCQ survey to the faculty member, then faculty Member to approve and publish MCQ.

Finally, after the students answered the MCQ, the system generates charts of students' answers, which helps the Faculty Member overview their answers and assessing the students understanding level.

MCQ 4U" is an Android mobile application which serves CCIS Imam University, the female student section, and Faculty Members and supports only English language .